In Memoriam - Daniel Slafkosky

The Maryland lacrosse family lost an irreplaceable supporter when Daniel Slafkosky, son of long-time assistant coach Dave Slafkosky, passed away in December 2000.

The memory of Daniel will be with every member of the Maryland lacrosse family throughout the 2001 season.

Terps and Lacrosse For Leukemia

The Maryland Terrapins continue to join in the fight against leukemia as once again they took part in the PriceModern Lacrosse for Leukemia Classic held in Owings Mills, Md., at the McDonogh School. As part of the event, the Terps were joined by their honored teammate, 10 year-old George Kiriazoglou for the second consecutive season. The third annual event, held on Oct. 7, 2000, raised $106,000 in the effort to battle leukemia for a record crowd of 5,000 fans were hand to support the 12 teams.

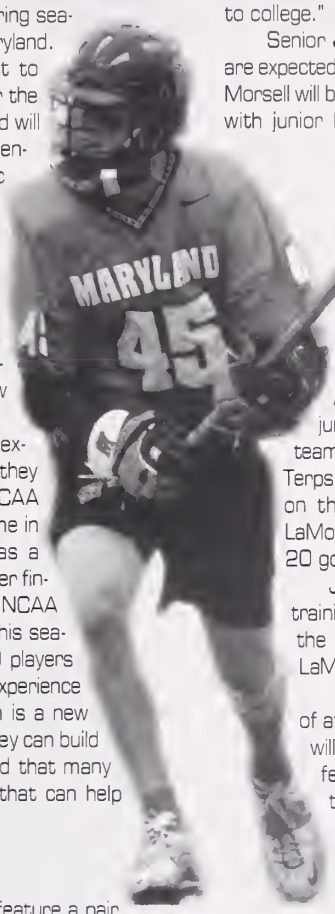
2001 Season Outlook

Maryland men's lacrosse coach Dick Edell is excited to begin his 18th spring season on the sidelines at Maryland. The Terps venture out west to kick off the 2001 season for the first time in history. Maryland will head to Colorado for the Denver Pioneer Face-Off Classic hosted by the University of Denver. The Terps will face Air Force on Feb. 24 and host Denver on Feb. 25.

"It's going to be great to start the season off with that trip," said Edell. "I'm really looking forward to it and I know the players are."

Overall, Edell has high expectations for the Terps, as they aim for a return to the NCAA Tournament for the 10th time in 11 years. "Last season was a great run," the coach said after finishing 11-5 and reaching the NCAA Quarterfinals. "As I look to this season, we have more than 30 players returning from that positive experience in 2000. I know every team is a new team each year, but I hope they can build on last season's success and that many of the kids picked up a lot that can help them this spring."



Chris Malone

Attack

The starting attack will feature a pair of returnees and a freshman sensation. "Our potential is a lot greater this season on the attack," said Edell.

Redshirt sophomore and All-American candidate Mike Mollot is back after leading the team in scoring in his rookie campaign. Mollot topped the Terps with 47 points and led the squad with 32 assists. "Mike has been in the program for three years including his true freshman year which he missed (with a broken leg and torn ankle ligaments suffered in Jan. 1999)," said the coach. "He played all of last year and will be improved and will be a major contributor."

Joining Mollot as a returnee is senior Andrew "Buggs" Combs. Last season was a breakout campaign for Combs, who scored a career-high 22 goals and finished with 28 points in his most playing time as a Terp.

Rounding out the starting attack unit should be freshman Dan LaMonica, the younger brother of Terp midfielder Mike LaMonica. At Boys' Latin High School, Dan LaMonica netted a school record 285 career points over his last three years, scoring 116 goals and assisting on 169 more. He was honored with the C. Markland Kelly Award and was named the Greater Baltimore Chapter of the U.S. Lacrosse's most outstanding player. During the summer of the 1999, he was the youngest member of the U.S. Under-19 team that captured the title in Adelaide, South Australia.

"Dan can do special things," said Edell. "He comes in from a high level of play in high school and should be able to bridge the gap from high school to college."

Senior Jon Kemezis and junior Mike Morsell are expected to be the first attackers off the bench. Morsell will battle for time as the crease attackman with junior Matt Urlock and sophomore Chris Edwards. Junior Beau Pich and freshman J.R. Bordley also figure to see time on the attack.

Midfield

At midfield, Maryland returns two top players from 2000 in senior All-American candidate Chris Malone and junior Mike LaMonica. Malone, a third team USILA All-American in 2000, led the Terps in goals with 28 and finished second on the squad in overall points with 39. LaMonica had a strong year as well, netting 20 goals and finishing with 23 points.

Junior Alex Poole has stepped it up in training camp and is penciled in to start on the field midfield along with Malone and LaMonica.

"Overall we have a pretty good group of athletes in the midfield," said Edell. "We will have the opportunity to play with different combinations and this is something that will be exciting."

Those combinations will include junior Nate Watkins and redshirt sophomore Matt Brock, who returns after missing all of last season with a torn right ACL. Sophomore Jamie Daue has impressed during camp and will start the season running on the second midfield.

Junior Craig Hochstadt, sophomores Ryan Moran and Willy Passavia along with freshman Ian Healy should also see time in the midfield.

Defensive Midfield

In the defensive midfield, Edell knows it will be hard to fill the shoes of Jeff Shirk, one of the "toughest warriors" Edell has ever coached.

Junior short sticks Carrington King and Brian Carroll will also be in the mix to fill Shirk in the defensive midfield.

Sophomore Brett Harper had a very strong fall season at long stick defensive midfield and Edell believes he is going to be a very special player. Freshman Lee Zink would make immediate contributions. According to Edell, the left-hander will serve as a great complement to Harper and can "pick-pocket" his opponents.

Senior Brian Kingsbury along with freshmen Paul Gillette and Alex Melzer will also make contributions in the defensive midfield.

Face-Offs

Junior Brian Carroll and Ryan Moran will split the face-off duties. Last season both players took more than 90 draws along with since-graduated Jeff Shirk. Junior Carrington King will also be used on face-offs throughout the season.

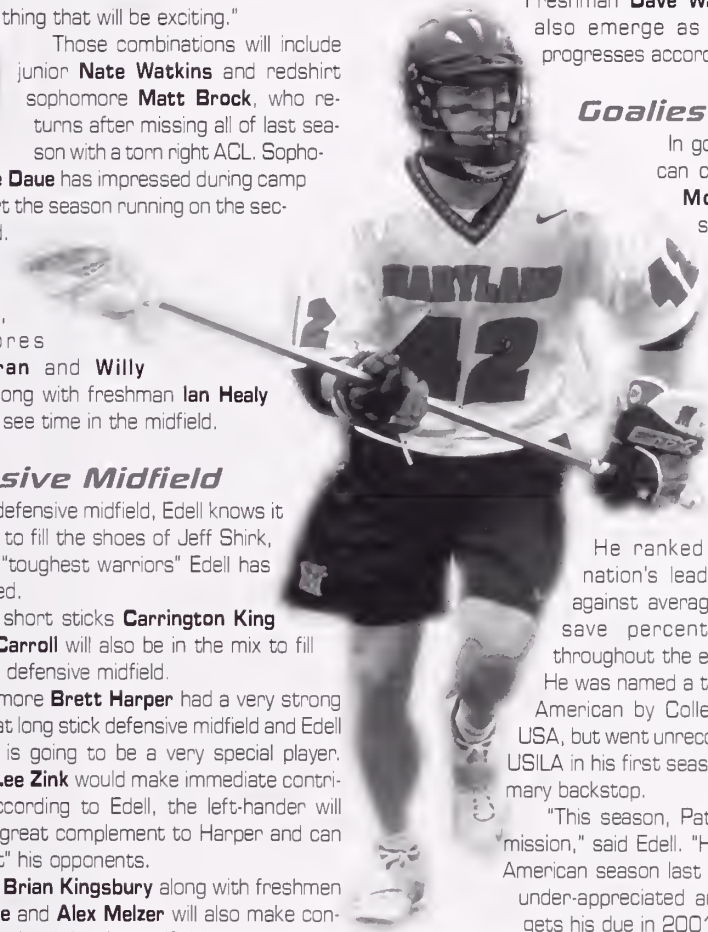
Defense

The defense may hold the key for the Terps success in 2001. Led by a sophomore and freshman, the close defense will be heavily relied upon. But that pair of players may emerge as two of the best defenders in the nation. Returning starter and All-American candidate Michael Howley was a keystone in 2000 and earned ACC Rookie of the Year for his tremendous play.

Newcomer Chris Passavia (Stony Brook, N.Y.) joins the Terps as a starter fresh off an All-American career and a pair of New York State High School titles at powerhouse Ward Melville last spring.

"Once the defense comes together," said Edell, "they will be a great unit. With a freshman and sophomore being our stalwarts we can potentially be outstanding for years to come. For as good as Michael was – and taking nothing away from him – Chris is as equally talented."

Senior David Rose begins the season as the third man on the starting close defense with senior Kevin Necessary pressing for time this spring. Freshman Dave Wagner could also emerge as the season progresses according to Edell.



Michael Howley

Goalies

In goal, All-American candidate Pat McGinnis answered all questions in 2000. After serving as a backup for two seasons, playing only 88 minutes, McGinnis was stellar. He ranked among the nation's leaders in goals against average (8.55) and save percentage (61.6) throughout the entire season. He was named a third team All-American by College Lacrosse USA, but went unrecognized by the USILA in his first season as the primary backstop.

"This season, Pat will be on a mission," said Edell. "He had an All-American season last year. He was under-appreciated and I hope he gets his due in 2001."

Redshirt sophomore Dan McCormick will serve as McGinnis' back-up.

Four Terps Earn Preseason Honors

Four Maryland men's lacrosse players were named to preseason 2001 All-American teams by 2001 Face-Off Yearbook and College Lacrosse USA.

Senior midfielder Chris Malone and sophomore defenseman Michael Howley were named to the first team, by both Face-Off and CLUSA. Senior goalie Pat McGinnis was named a first team All-American by CLUSA and an honorable mention All-American by Face-Off. Sophomore attackman Mike Mollot was a preseason third team All-American by CLUSA and honorable mention All-American.

Malone, who was named a third team All-American by the USILA, College Lacrosse USA and AllLacrosseAmerica.com in 2000, led the Terps in goals with 28 and finished second on the team in points with 39 last season. Malone recorded a career-high four goals on two occasions last season, against North Carolina and Johns Hopkins. He was also an All-ACC selection in 2000.

Howley, who was the ACC Rookie of the Year in 2000, was a stalwart of the Terps' defense last season helping the team to an 8.63 goals against average. He started the final 15 games of the season and scooped up 26 groundballs. Howley consistently defended the opponent's top offensive attackman.

McGinnis, a third team All-American by College Lacrosse USA and All-ACC goalie in 2000, had a breakout year in his first season between the pipes for Maryland. He ranked among the national leaders in goals against average and save percentage throughout the 2000 season. He finished with an 8.55 goals against average and a .616 save percentage and an 11-5 record, starting all 16 games.

Mollot, who was an honorable mention All-American by College Lacrosse USA in 2000, was the Terps' leading scorer and finished his first collegiate season with 47 points, including a team-high 32 assists. That assist total led all freshmen in the nation. Mollot was sensational late in the season leading the Terps to the NCAA quarterfinals with a run of 19 points over three games.

Two Games on WMAR-TV

Maryland will once again be a featured team as part of the WMAR-TV lacrosse package aired on Channel 2 in the Baltimore area. Maryland will kick off the network's coverage for the second time in three seasons, as the Terps' home opener against ACC rival Duke will be aired live on March 4 at noon.

The second game to be shown will be part of a Maryland women's/men's doubleheader on April 14 at Byrd Stadium. The six-time defending Terp women's team will take on Johns Hopkins at 5 p.m. in the first game. Then at 8 p.m., the Maryland men will take on Johns Hopkins to conclude the doubleheader. The game marks the fourth time in as many years that the classic Maryland-Johns Hopkins game will be shown.

Maryland could also appear on television several more times as the season progresses. The ACC Championship game being held at Disney's Wide World of Sports in Orlando on April 22 will be aired on Home Team Sports (HTS) in the Baltimore-Washington, D.C., area.

Also, as usual, ESPN2 will air both NCAA semifinal games on May 26, live beginning at noon from Rutgers Stadium and the championship game on ESPN, live at 10:55 a.m. on May 28.

Head West and South Young Men

Maryland will make its first-ever trip outside the Eastern time zone when the Terps open the season in Denver, Colo. Maryland will take part in the Denver Pioneer Face-Off Classic hosted by the University of Denver on Feb. 24-25. The Terps will take on Air Force for the first time since the 1970s on Feb. 24 at 11 a.m. MT. The following day, Maryland will play host Denver at 1 p.m. MT.

Later in the season, Maryland will make its first trip to Florida for NCAA competition. The Terps will take part in the ACC Spring Fest held at the Disney Wide World of Sports in Orlando, Fla. The semifinal games featuring conference schools Duke, North Carolina, Virginia and Maryland will take place on April 20 at 6 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. The title game will take place on April 22 at 2:30 p.m.

With the two trips to uncharted territory, Maryland will make trips via airplane for the first time since 1995 when it played at Brown.

Also, Maryland's travel itinerary will cover close to 6,500 miles. Last season, the Terps traveled just 2,200 miles for seven road games including two NCAA Tournament games.

Senior Captains Named

Head coach Dick Edell has named three senior captains for the 2000 season: Andrew "Buggs" Combs, Chris Malone and Pat McGinnis will serve in the capacity for the 2001 season. All three were vital cogs in the team's successful run to the NCAA quarterfinals last season.

Pat McGinnis

Head Coach Dick Edell

Towson '67

29th season overall

18th season at Maryland

One of the winningest coaches in the history of college lacrosse, Dick Edell is in his 29th year of college coaching and 18th at Maryland. The ACC's all-time leader in coaching victories, he is looking to return to the NCAA Tournament for a 17th time, second most of any coach in the sport's history.

The Terps compiled an 11-5 mark in 2000 – marking the 28th straight season an Edell-coached squad finished at or above .500. Edell led the Terps to the NCAA Quarterfinals following an impressive late-season run, which included an appearance in the ACC Championship game and a first round NCAA win over Hofstra.

Edell moved passed his mentor, former Towson coach Carl Runk, for fourth on the all-time college win list with the Terps' 8-7 win at Cornell on March 18, 2000.

Edell became the all-time winningest coach in ACC history when the Terps upset No. 1 Loyola in the NCAA semifinals, 19-8 on May 23, 1998. With the win, Edell passed Jim Adams, who had recorded a 137-60 record with Virginia in 15 seasons.

Heading into the 2001 season, Edell's career record at Maryland stands at 158-73.

With a lifetime record of 269-120 over the last 28 years following stints at the University of Baltimore, Army and Maryland, Edell is the nation's second-winningest active coach. Ironically, the only coach Edell trails on the active list is Army coach Jack Emmer (281-153), who succeeded Edell when he came to Maryland in 1984.

In 1999, Edell moved into fifth on the all-time coaching victories chart, passing Richie Moran (257) and Roy Simmons, Sr. (252).

Edell's overall winning percentage of .692 is also among all-time coaching leaders.

Edell has become a fixture in his 18 years in College Park. His players affectionately call him "Big Man," while his resume reflects why he is the "Big Man" among all lacrosse coaches.

In 1998, he led Maryland to its third appearance in the NCAA championship game in four years. The Terps qualified for eight consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances from 1990-98 and have been to 12 overall with Edell at the controls.

Edell was named the National Coach of the Year by the USILA in 1978 and 1995. He was also selected as the ACC's Coach of the Year in 1989, 1992 and 1998, after leading Maryland to its first ACC championship since the format change in 1989.

Three seasons ago, Edell led Maryland to a school-record 14 wins, posting a 14-3 record. That victory total also marked the eighth time the Terps posted a double-figure win total under his leadership.

The only coach in Maryland history to post 100 victories, Edell led Maryland to a then-school record 12 wins in 1987 and 1995. The 12th victory in 1995 is considered by many the greatest upset in the 28-year history of the NCAA Tournament. The Terps upset previously undefeated and No. 1-ranked Johns Hopkins, 16-8, to advance to the championship game that year.

Edell is also considered one of the premier recruiters in the game, consistently attracting the nation's top talent to College Park year after year. Under Edell, 37 Maryland players have been named to the first, second or third All-America teams, including Casey Connor (second team in 2000) and Chris Malone (third team in 2000).

Five of his student-athletes have won Player of the Year recognition at their respective positions while 11 Terps have been named first team All-Americans. Former Terp and two-time national Goalie of the Year Brian Dougherty represented the United States at the 1998 World Championships. In 2000, freshman defenseman Michael Howley was named ACC Rookie of the Year.

During the 1998 season, goalie Kevin Healy was named the ACC Player of the Year and Scott Hochstadt earned ACC Tournament Most Valuable Player. Nine Terps were named to various All-America teams led by second team honorees Hochstadt, Healy and Brian Zeller.

Edell came to Maryland in 1984 after seven tremendously successful seasons at Army. He compiled a 66-24 (.733) record with the Cadets and led them to four NCAA appearances.

He broke into the profession in 1968 as the freshman coach at Towson. After two years with the Tigers, Edell spent three years at Calvert Hall College where the Cardinals were MSA champions in 1971 and 1972.

In 1973 he was hired at the University of Baltimore where he coached for four years and amassed a 45-23 (.661) record. He also coached Baltimore to a Division II national soccer crown in 1975.

Edell was a two-time All-American at Towson where he graduated with a bachelor's degree in physical education in 1967. He earned his master's degree in education from Western Maryland in 1970 and another master's degree in science from the University of Baltimore in 1976.

The 57-year-old Edell and his wife, Dolores, are the proud parents of four children. Their daughters Lisa and Krissy are both Maryland graduates, while their son Gregg graduated from Dartmouth in 2000 after a successful lacrosse career and currently works in New York City. Their youngest daughter, Erin, is a senior at Glenelg High School.

Off. Coordinator Dave Slafkosky

Johns Hopkins '74

18th season at Maryland

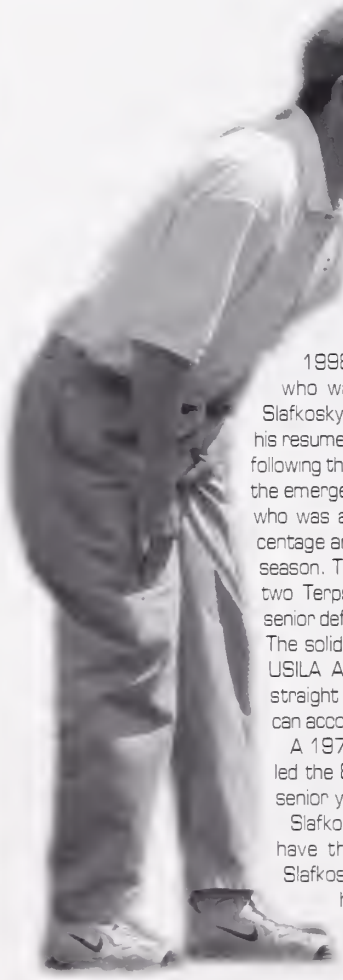
Dave Slafkosky and Dick Edell celebrate their 25th year together as they prepare for the 2001 season. When Edell came to Maryland, his only request was that "Coach Slaf" join him. Granting Edell's only request was a critical decision that ensured unprecedented success for the program.

This season Slafkosky returns to coaching the offense after spending the past five seasons as the defensive coordinator. It is the second time Edell has challenged his old friend to take over the offensive reins. The move comes on the heels of Scott Marr's departure to become the head coach at the University at Albany and Jon Stainbrook's elevation to defensive coordinator.

Originally, Slafkosky was named defensive coordinator when he joined the Terps in 1984. After leading Maryland to the NCAA semifinals in 1987 and 1989, Edell had his old friend to take over the offensive reins in 1991.

Without missing a beat, the Terps would soon experience the same success on the offensive end with Slafkosky at the wheel. Maryland would return to the NCAA semifinal in Slafkosky's first year with the offense in 1992. Under Slafkosky's tutelage, Mark Douglas would become a first-team All-American and establish the University of Maryland's single-season goal scoring mark of 51. In the same year, Rob Wurzburger would become the all-time career goal scorer with 137.

Maryland's offense would continue to be successful under Slafkosky's watch, qualifying for the NCAA's every year and reaching the finals in 1995. His most successful season came in 1995, with Marr's new insight, as Maryland shattered the school's offensive record books. The Terps scored 235 goals and produced All-Americans in Kip Fulks and Rob Chomo. After the '95 season, Coach Slaf switched back to the defensive side knowing Maryland was in great shape with Marr running the offense.



Maryland's defense has become its trademark with its intimidating physical play. The Terps reached the finals in 1995, led by its National Defenseman of the Year, Dan Radebaugh. Defenseman Dave LaChapelle's play earned him second team All-America honors in 1997 and propelled the Terps into the championship game for the second time in three years.

Slafkosky has worked heavily with 1998 ACC Player of the Year Kevin Healy, who was also a second team All-American. Slafkosky added another All-American honoree to his resume as Chris Lamy was honored by the USILA following the 1999 campaign. The 2000 season saw the emergence of a new star in goal, Pat McGinnis, who was among the nation's leaders in save percentage and goals against average throughout the season. The year culminated with McGinnis one of two Terps named All-ACC. Along with McGinnis senior defender Casey Connor was honored as well. The solid close defenseman earned second team USILA All-American honors. It marked the fifth straight year a Terp defender earned All-American accolades - all under the tutelage of Slafkosky.

A 1974 graduate of Johns Hopkins, Slafkosky led the Blue Jays to a national championship his senior year as a midfielder.

Slafkosky and his wife of 21 years, Michelle, have three children: Sarah, Kevin and Alex. Slafkosky will coach this season with a heavy heart as his eldest son Daniel, a U.S. Marine, passed away this past December at the age of 20.

Def. Coordinator Jon Stainbrook

Nazareth '93

5th season at Maryland

Jon Stainbrook enters his fifth year with Maryland men's lacrosse program. This season will be his first as the defensive coordinator. Stainbrook was elevated to the position after Scott Marr left Maryland to build the program at Albany. Stainbrook has been a vital part of the Maryland program for the past four seasons while serving as a defensive assistant coach on the staff.

During his time at Maryland, Stainbrook has coached several USILA All-Americans on the close defense including the likes of Dave LaChapelle, Chris Lamy and Casey Connor.

Stainbrook joined the Terrapin staff in 1997 after serving three years at Division III power Nazareth College. Stainbrook led the Golden Flyers to a 36-6 record over three campaigns, including three consecutive NCAA semifinal appearances and the national championship in 1995.

In his playing days, Stainbrook was a defenseman for Herkimer County Community College in 1987 and 1990. He also played for Cortland State in 1991 and 1992. Stainbrook served as a team captain with both squads.

Stainbrook graduated from Nazareth with a bachelor's degree in political science and a master's degree in education. He graduated in May 1999 from the Maryland School of Public Affairs with a master's concentration in international security and economic policy.

He is single and resides in College Park.

Volunteer Asst. Sonny Ziegler

Maryland '00

1st season at Maryland

With an extensive lacrosse background, Sonny Ziegler joins the Maryland men's lacrosse staff as an assistant coach in 2001. He will work with the goalies and aid Slafkosky on the offensive end of the field.

Most recently Ziegler served as a lacrosse official, refereeing games on all college levels (Division I, II, III and junior college) as well as high school since 1997.

Prior to that Ziegler served as a coach at four different Maryland high schools. He worked as an assistant coach at power Calvert Hall in 1997 and 1998. He served as an assistant coach at Mount Hebron High School in 1994 and 1995 before being elevated to head coach in 1996. In that season, he led Mount Hebron to the Maryland 3A-4A championship game.

From 1990-93, Ziegler served as an assistant coach at Glenelg High School, aiding the team's return to the playoffs in his final two seasons. He began his coaching career as an assistant at Mount Saint Joseph's.

A Pennsylvania native, Ziegler played his college lacrosse at Salisbury State. He was an attacker for the Seagulls from 1985-87, helping the team to the 1986 NCAA Tournament. Ziegler earned his bachelor of science in kinesiology from Maryland in 2000.

The 35-year-old Ziegler and his wife Erin reside in Catonsville, Md.

2000 Review Notes

Back In The Tournament
The Terps advanced to their 24th NCAA Tournament, second most of any team in NCAA history, in 2000. In defeating Hofstra in the first round (14-12 at UMBC), Maryland advanced to the quarterfinals for the ninth time since 1986 when the tournament expanded to 12 teams. Maryland was knocked out of the tournament by Princeton for the third time in five years, losing 10-7 in the quarterfinals held at Rutgers. Princeton won both the 1997 and 1998 national championship games against the Terps.

One-Goal Masters
The Terps won a one-goal game for the fifth time this season by defeating Duke, 7-6 on April 21 in the ACC semifinals. The five one-goal margins of victory are the most ever in the 75 years of Maryland lacrosse.

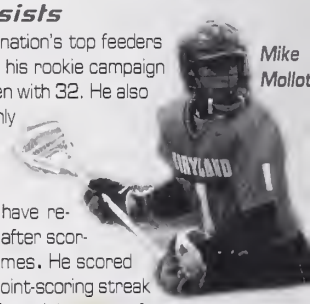
With a 6-5 win over Navy on April 8, Maryland tied the 1989 team, when the Terps also won four one-goal games.

Ironically, Maryland also defeated Navy by the same 6-5 score in the 1989 season, as one of its one-goal wins. The Terps' lone one-goal loss in both seasons came to Duke. The Terps were 5-1 this season in one-goal games, the most one-goal games Maryland has played in dating to 1924.

Winning The Close Ones
Maryland has shown they can win the close games. After defeating Hofstra, 14-12 in the 2000 NCAA First Round, the Terps went 6-1 in one or two-goal games. Never before in the 75-year history of Maryland lacrosse have the Terps won as many games decided by one or two goals.

Five other Maryland teams (1997, 1995, 1992, 1989 and 1924) won four games by one or two goals. Both the '92 and '89 teams played seven games decided by two goals or less, but only won four.

Mollot Tops Freshmen In Assists
Mike Mollot asserted himself as one of the nation's top feeders in his first collegiate lacrosse season. He finished his rookie campaign as the national leader in assists among all freshmen with 32. He also finished second in total points with 47, second only to Sacred Heart's Stephen Grabow (52).



Mike Mollot

Malone's Scoring Streak
Chris Malone was the only Terp to have recorded a point in all 16 games in 2000 after scoring two goals in each of the last four games. He scored goals in 14 of 16 games in 2000. Malone's point-scoring streak dates back to 1999 having notched points in 20 straight games for 44 points (30 goals & 14 assists).

Chris Malone

Malone In The First Half
Chris Malone gets it done in the first half. He has recorded 21 goals and six assists for 27 points in the first half. Overall, 75.0 percent of his goals have come in the first half including all four of his goals against North Carolina and Johns Hopkins. Both goals in the Hofstra game came in the first half. Overall, 69.2 percent of his points have come in the first half (27 of 39).

Zeller Reaches 100 Career Points
Senior captain Brian Zeller surpassed the 100-point plateau with his best game of the season against Yale on April 28. Zeller scored a season-high four goals in lifting the Terps to the 12-9 win. Zeller's first goal of the game, with nine seconds left in the first quarter, represented his 100th career point.

After netting a hat trick against Hofstra in the first round and two goals and an assist vs. Princeton, Zeller finished with 110 career points (74 goals and 36 assists).

Game 1

Maryland	19
The Mount Mount St. Mary's College	3

Feb. 27, 2000
College Park

The No. 8 Maryland men's lacrosse team dominated Mount St. Mary's, 19-3, in the season opener for both teams at Byrd Stadium. Fourteen different Terps scored goals and 17 tallied at least one point as Maryland moved to 71-3-1 (.953) all-time in season openers, dating back to the first varsity season in 1924.

After a sluggish start in which the game stood scoreless for the first 10:52, the Terps opened the flood gates at the end of the first quarter and never let up. Chris Malone scored the first and third goals to give Maryland a 3-0 lead at the end of the first quarter.

Andrew "Buggs" Combs assisted Maryland's next three goals -- in the second quarter -- passing to Mike Mollot for his first college goal at the 9:55 mark of the second, Ricky Sears for his first college tally at 8:42 and senior Marcus LaChapelle scored at 5:41 to give the Terps a 6-0 lead.

Mount St. Mary's broke up the shutout as Doug Thompson scored with 5:06 left in the second quarter. Maryland had not allowed a goal in nearly an entire game, spanning back to last season when the Terps shutout UMBC for the entire second half of the season finale.

The Terps outscored the Mountaineers 5-0 in the third quarter on a pair of goals by Combs, and single tallies by Mike LaMonica, Alex Poole and Jon Kemezis to lead 12-1 at the end of three quarters.

Redshirt sophomore Mike Morsell opened the fourth period with a natural hat trick scoring three straight in a span of 1:44, to put Maryland up 15-1 with 12:33 left in the game. Maryland closed out the scoring with goals by senior Dan Hughes and freshmen Chris Edwards, Willy Passavia and Sean Leary.

In his first college start, junior goalie Pat McGinnis was stellar in net, allowing just one goal over the first three quarters and making 10 saves. Freshman Dan McCormick came on in relief to make seven saves in the fourth.

The win was Maryland's largest margin of victory (16) and fewest goals allowed (3) since the Terps crushed Radford 21-2 on April 1, 1997.

Game 2

Duke	9
Maryland	8

Mar. 4, 2000
Durham, N.C.

Senior attackmen T.J. Durnan and Jared Frood combined for five goals, including the game-winner with 1:58 left in regulation, as the fifth-ranked Blue Devils (3-0) defeated No. 8 Maryland, 9-8, in ACC men's lacrosse action at Duke's Koskinen Stadium.

The Blue Devils took charge early, building a 3-1 lead in the first quarter. Duke's first goal came on an extra-man opportunity, as Durnan fed Frood for the score. Sophomore Greg Patchak and senior Craig Schubert also added goals for the Blue Devils as Maryland's Mike LaMonica scored the only Terp goal of the first period.

Frood added an unassisted goal early in the second quarter, bringing the Duke lead to 4-1. Then the Terrapin floodgates opened, as Maryland scored five goals in a six-minute period to go up 6-4. Terp attackman Marcus LaChapelle led the way during the scoring spree with three goals (two unassisted) and an assist. Maryland also got goals from Mike Morsell and Chris Malone. LaChapelle's goal output (three) equalled his career high in a single game.

Duke stopped the bleeding before the half, as Durnan and Patchak scored two quick goals with under a minute to play to tie the score at six at halftime. Patchak's came with 0:03 left in the half.

The Blue Devils hung on to that momentum in the third quarter, scoring the first two goals to go up, 8-6. Maryland's Craig Hochstadt then scored on an extra-man opportunity and Malone added another to even the score again at eight.

The teams remained tied for the first 13 minutes of the final period, until the Durnan-Frood combination struck again. This time Frood fed Durnan for the score and the 9-8 lead. Duke won the following face-off, but wasn't able to hold on to the ball for the remainder of the game. Maryland gained possession with nearly a half-minute remaining, but was a man-down due to a slashing penalty. The Duke defense prevented the Terps from getting a clean shot off, as the Blue Devils notched the victory .

Duke goalkeeper Matt Breslin tallied 13 saves in the victory, as Terrapin goalie Pat McGinnis recorded nine. Maryland had 31 shots to Duke's 26.

Duke has won the six of the last 10 meetings in this storied series, but Saturday's victory marked Duke's first home win over Maryland since the 1954 season.

Game 3

Maryland	9
Bucknell	3

Mar. 7, 2000
College Park

With stellar defense and outstanding goalkeeping from junior Pat McGinnis, No. 9 Maryland topped Bucknell, 9-3 on Tuesday afternoon at Byrd Stadium. McGinnis recorded a career-high 22 saves and did not allow a goal in the second half as he lowered his goals against average to 4.73 in three games this season.

On offense, Marcus LaChapelle led the Terps with three goals, raising his team-high season total to seven while Mike Mollot posted one goal and three assists and now leads the Terps in overall points with 11 in three games. Chris Malone and Brian Zeller also compiled multi-point games, with a goal and an assist. Malone has now recorded points in seven straight contests dating back to last season.

After Bucknell jumped out to a 1-0 lead on Ed Costello's goal 2:09 in the game, Maryland rallied for three straight goals from Malone, Willy Passavia and Mike LaMonica to take a 3-1 lead with 1:32 left in the first quarter. After a Bucknell goal by Michael Cheng just before the end of the first quarter, the Terps increased that lead to 4-2, as LaChapelle scored his first of three goals at the 6:11 mark of the second. Zeller scored his first of the season with 1:44 left in the first half to make the score 5-3 at halftime.

The teams played a tight defensive third quarter in which neither squad dented the scoreboard before Maryland lit up Bucknell goalie Andy Smith for four goals in the fourth quarter. Mollot and LaChapelle scored unassisted goals two minutes apart to give the Terps a 7-3 lead midway through the third. Alex Poole and LaChapelle -- his third of the day -- closed out the scoring for the 9-3 margin.

Game 4

Maryland	13
Towson	12

Mar. 11, 2000
College Park

Sophomore attacker Mike Morsell scored the game-winning goal off a pass from senior Brian Zeller with 28 seconds left in regulation to give No. 9 Maryland a thrilling 13-12 win over intrastate rival Towson on Saturday at a wet Byrd Stadium. Morsell's first career game-winning goal capped a back-and-forth game that featured seven ties including four in the second half at 8-8, 9-9, 10-10 and 12-12.

Maryland's Mike LaMonica had a career game scoring four goals, including the first two to put the Terps up 2-0. Towson's Todd Paradise then scored four of Towson's next six goals to give the Tigers a 6-3 lead with 9:00 left in the second quarter. That three-goal margin was the largest differential of the game.

The Terps (3-1) rallied for five straight goals in the final 8:32 of the first half on LaMonica's third and fourth goals of the game and single goals from Mike Mollot, Craig Hochstadt and Chris Malone, to give Maryland an 8-6 halftime edge.

Towson (0-2) tied the game at 8-8 on goals by Brad Reppert and Paradise -- his fifth of the game -- with 9:22 left in the third. Mike Haertel and Marcus LaChapelle traded goals to make the score 9-9 with 0:57 left in the third. Morsell then scored his first of two last-minute goals as time expired in the third to put Maryland up 10-9 heading to a hotly contested fourth.

The Tigers quickly tied the game at 10-10 just 56 seconds into the fourth as Brad Monaco scored off a pass from J.D. Jones. The Terps took a two goal advantage, 12-10, as Malone and LaChapelle each scored his second goal of the game midway through the fourth. Towson then came back to tie the game on goals by Haertel, with 4:52 left in regulation and Monaco with 2:20 left in the game. That set the stage for Morsell's heroics with 28 seconds left.

Mollot set a career-high with six points on one goal and five assists, all in the first half. His five assists were the most since Andrew Whipple had five in the Terps' 1998 NCAA semifinal upset over Loyola. Malone moved his consecutive point-scoring streak to eight games and LaChapelle has now scored in seven straight dating to last season.

In nets, Maryland's Pat McGinnis made 13 saves to earn his third career win and Towson's John Horrigan recorded 14 saves for the Tigers, who were outshot 40-36.

Game 5

Maryland	13
Delaware	4

Mar. 15, 2000
College Park

No. 9 Maryland (4-1 overall) jumped all over No. 18 Delaware (2-3 overall) as the Terps posted an impressive 13-4 victory at a sunny Byrd Stadium on Wednesday afternoon. Andrew "Buggs" Combs got the Terps off to a quick start, scoring an extra-man goal just 1:03 into the contest and went on to equal his career-high in goals with three. Combs also tallied the eventual game-winner to make the score 5-1, 1:10 into the second quarter.

The Terps built a 4-1 lead at the end of the first quarter and led 9-2 at halftime behind a well-rounded offensive attack and superb defense, anchored by junior goalie Pat McGinnis, who stopped 15 Blue Hen shots. McGinnis allowed just three goals, marking the third time in five games McGinnis has held opponents to three goals or less. McGinnis' goals against average now stands at 6.09 and his save percentage is 71.1.

Maryland received two-goal efforts from Mike LaMonica and Maryland Student-Athlete of the Week Mike Mollot. Both of LaMonica's goals came on the extra-man unit, which had a great day scoring on all three opportunities. Senior midfielder Brian Zeller handed out three assists to equal his career single-game mark in that category.

Marcus LaChapelle added to his team-high goal total, netting his 10th of the season in the second quarter. Joining LaChapelle with one goal in the game were Geoff Burnham, Chris Edwards, Craig Hochstadt, Mike Morsell and Willy Passavia.

The win also signaled the 262nd career win for Maryland coach Dick Edell, who now stands tied with former Towson coach Carl Runk for fourth on the all-time collegiate coaching win list. Edell, who is the ACC's winningest coach with a record of 151-69 at Maryland, is now 262-116 in 28 seasons overall at Maryland, Army and the University of Baltimore, dating back to 1973.

Maryland, which has won three games in a row, outshot the Blue Hens 42-32 and scooped up 63 groundballs, as compared to 37 for Delaware. The game between the teams was the first since a May 4, 1988 meeting, which was the first night lacrosse game played at Byrd Stadium, a 17-7 Terp win.

Cornell	7

Mar. 18, 2000
Ithaca, N.Y.

Junior midfielder Chris Malone notched the game-winning goal with 7:09 left in the fourth to break a 7-7 deadlock and give No. 9 Maryland (5-1 overall) a hard-fought 8-7 victory over No. 11 Cornell at Schoellkopf Field on a sunny and brisk Saturday afternoon.

Maryland held off a furious Cornell attack in the final minute. The Terps made three outstanding defensive plays to secure the win, sophomore midfielder Nate Watkins knocked loose a Cornell pass with 35 seconds left when the Big Red had the ball deep in Maryland territory. Then after Cornell regained possession Marcus LaChapelle intercepted a pass by Cornell defenseman Ryan McClay with 21 seconds left and as the final buzzer sounded goalie Pat McGinnis made his 10th and final stop on David Key's shot from about 35 yards.

Maryland rallied back after falling behind 5-2 with 8:05 left in the first half. Maryland scored four straight goals including three from Andrew "Buggs" Combs and one goal by Brian Zeller to take a 6-5 lead with 8:43 left in the third quarter. Cornell tied the game at 6-6 on a Chris Packard goal with 6:20 in the third. Maryland's Alex Poole gave the Terps a 7-6 lead to end the third quarter when he scored with 4:19 left in the period. The Big Red tied the game at 7-7 on J.P. Schalk's goal with 11:02 left in regulation, and that set the stage for Malone's winner which he knocked in from the left side of the goal.

LaChapelle led Maryland with four points on two goals -- the Terps' first two of the game -- and two assists. Combs' three goals equaled his career-high for the second straight game. Mike Mollot recorded one assist to raise his team-high point total to 20 and keep his consecutive point scoring streak alive at six.

Maryland's extra-man unit was once against outstanding, scoring on all three attempts for the second straight game. Maryland has now scored on six consecutive man-up opportunities.

The Terps, who outshot Cornell 36-27, have now won eight games in a row against Cornell.

With the win, Maryland head coach Dick Edell passed former Towson coach Carl Runk for fourth on the all-time collegiate coaching win list. Edell's overall record stands at 263-116 in 28 years at Maryland, Army and the University of Baltimore.

Mar. 25, 2000
Chapel Hill, N.C.

Maryland won at Fetzer Field for the first time since 1986 as the Terps rallied back from four different deficits including an 8-7 deficit with 4:29 left in the third quarter to come away with a pulse-pounding 10-9 win.

The game was a tight one which saw five lead changes and five ties before Maryland was able to come away with the ACC victory to raise its record to 6-1, 1-1 in the ACC and continue its five-game winning streak. The Terps have now won three consecutive one-goal games following its only loss to Duke, 9-8, on March 4.

"I wanted us to play harder than North Carolina," said coach Dick Edell. "We are 41 players with the same focus and this game just shows how we can step it up. I am so proud of the guys. This was Maryland lacrosse, a great effort all around from every player. It's a huge win in the ACC and really tested the character of both teams and we really came away with it winning here."

Junior midfielder Chris Malone led the Terps with a career-high four goals, all in the first half, as the Terps rallied back from a 5-3 deficit at the end of the first quarter. The Terps used Malone and solid defense to outscore the Tar Heels 3-0 -- on three Malone goals -- in the second quarter to take a 6-5 halftime lead.

Two of those goals came on assists from senior Brian Zeller, who also finished with four points on a goal and three assists.

Mike LaMonica had a strong, game scoring three goals including Maryland's final two including the goal which made it 10-8 with 7:38 left in the game on a behind-the-back goal off a pass from Marcus LaChapelle.

North Carolina came out strong building a 5-3 lead at the end of the first quarter on goals by five different Tar Heels. UNC reclaimed the lead in the third quarter on a trio of consecutive goals, including two by Matt Crofton. The Terps tied the game at 8-8 as Zeller scored his only goal of the game. LaMonica put the Terps up 9-8 on a goal with 3:05 left in the third.

In goal, Pat McGinnis made 12 saves and allowed just four goals after the first quarter, making eight saves over the final 45 minutes.

The Terps have now won five straight games against North Carolina. The last win for Maryland at Fetzer came on March 29, 1986. The Terps broke a streak of seven losses in a row at Fetzer both against North Carolina and in the ACC Tournament.

Despite an amazing effort from junior goalie Pat McGinnis, who made 27 saves, the most by any goalie in Division I this season, No. 6 Maryland fell to No. 2 Virginia 11-6 before 5,049 at Byrd Stadium and a live television audience on WMAR-TV. The Terps fell to 6-2 overall and finished the ACC season with a 1-2 record. Virginia, which outshot Maryland 50-17, was led by the offensive duo of Conor Gill (three goals and one assist) and Drew McKnight (three goals and two assists). David Bruce also added two goals for the Virginia attack. After Maryland took a 2-1 lead on goals by Chris Malone and Andrew "Buggs" Combs 5:40 into the first quarter, Virginia went on to score nine straight goals taking a 10-2 lead early in the fourth quarter. Maryland was held to just two shots over the second and third quarters, including a shotless third period.

Mike Mollot scored a wraparound goal from behind the Navy net with 5:01 left in regulation to lift No. 7 Maryland to a physical 6-5 victory over No. 11 Navy at Byrd Stadium. The score was an exact repeat of the April 10, 1999 score when Maryland topped Navy 6-5 in Annapolis. The game pitted two of the best three defensive teams in the nation entering the game as Navy had allowed just 5.88 goals per game and Maryland had given up just 7.25 goals per game. The game lived up to its billing as a defensive battle. The Terps, who recorded their fourth one-goal victory of the season, raised their record to 7-2 while Navy fell to 6-3 overall.

Brian Zeller opened the scoring with the only goal of the first quarter beating Navy goalie Mickey Jarboe with 2:52 left in the quarter. Navy came back with the first two goals of the second quarter from Brandon Cornes and Greg Conklin to take a 2-1 lead with 5:27 left in the first half. But Maryland's Chris Malone scored successive goals with 4:54 and 44 seconds left in the second quarter to give the Terps a 3-2 lead at half.

The teams traded the first two goals of the second half as Jon Brianas and Mike LaMonica scored for Navy and Maryland, respectively, to make the score 4-3 Maryland, 2:03 into the second half. The score stood that way until Navy rallied two quick goals late in the third quarter as Adam Borcz and Ed McKinnon scored to give Navy its final lead of the game at 5-4 heading to the fourth quarter.

Maryland tied the game as Matt Urlock scored his third goal in two games off a beautiful pass from Mollot with 11:13 left in regulation. That set the stage for Mollot's winner with 5:01 left.

In the cages, Pat McGinnis once again put in an outstanding performance with 10 saves. Mickey Jarboe made 14 saves for the Midshipmen.

The win was Maryland's eighth straight over Navy dating back to the 1992 game.

The seventh-ranked Maryland men's lacrosse team (7-3) was upended by No. 8 Johns Hopkins (5-3), 20-11 Saturday night at Homewood Field. Chris Malone tied a career-high with four goals and set a new personal best with five points, to lead the Terps in the loss.

Hopkins came out quick in the first quarter scoring four straight in the first five minutes, including two goals by A.J. Haugen. Maryland finally got on the board with 4:38 left in the first half, when Malone found Andrew "Buggs" Combs for the first Terrapin goal. Combs then returned the favor, feeding Malone just five seconds before the end of the first to close the deficit to two goals by the end of the quarter, 4-2.

The Blue Jays opened the scoring up in the second with three straight goals before Malone hit two more for the Terps to make it a 7-4 Hopkins advantage. Matt Urlock netted the first of his career-high three goals on the night 1:10 before the half to close the gap to two at the break at 8-6.

The second half was all Hopkins, with the Blue Jays scoring 12 goals. Defenseman Jason Carrier scored his first goal of the season to make it a three-goal lead with 12:10 remaining in the third quarter, 10-7. Urlock would get the Terps as close as two (11-9) with 4:34 remaining in the third, but the Terps would get no closer.

Combs finished with two goals and three points while Mike LaMonica tallied his first two assists of the season on two of Urlock's goals.

ACC Semifinals
Apr. 21, 2000

Behind Brian Zeller's first multi-goal game of the season and Brian Carroll's solid play on face-offs the Maryland Terrapins advanced to the ACC Championship game for the first time since 1998 with a tight 7-6 win over No. 6 Duke on a rainy night at Byrd Stadium. Maryland held off Duke in the fourth quarter, which on three occasions cut the Terps lead to one goal (5-4, 6-5 and the final 7-6).

Maryland jumped out to a 3-1 lead on first-quarter goals by Zeller, Chris Malone and Mike Morsell. Duke tied the game at the half on a pair of goals from Terrence Keaney and T.J. Dunan, to make it 3-3.

Maryland took the lead for good as Matt Urlock scored his seventh goal in four games to put the Terps up 4-3 with 9:31 left in the third quarter. The Terps' fourth-quarter goals came from Mike LaMonica, who made it 5-3; Zeller who made it 6-4 with 12:37 left in regulation and Marcus LaChapelle.

Carroll was a major story for the Terps as he won his first eight face-offs through the first three quarters and finished with a career-high 11 wins on 15 draws. What makes Carroll's work even more impressive is that he did much of his work against Duke's Scott Bross, who came into the game having won 65.5 percent of his face-offs, to rank third in the nation in draws. Bross won just three of 12 face-offs.

The game was the third straight one-goal game between the ACC rivals, but the first Maryland has won. The Terps advance to the ACC final for just the fourth time ever. Two of those other appearances came in the only other two ACC Tournaments to be held at Byrd Stadium in 1992 and 1993.

ACC Final
Apr. 23, 2000

No. 1 seed Virginia topped No. 3 seed Maryland, 11-7, to claim its second straight ACC Tournament Championship at Byrd Stadium on a cloudy afternoon. The title was Virginia's 14th overall and third since the conference moved to a tournament championship format in 1989. Virginia's Conor Gill was named the tournament MVP as he scored one goal, Virginia's eighth -- the eventual game-winner -- and assisted on four goals for a game-high five points.

No. 7 Maryland scored nine unanswered goals spanning the second through fourth quarters to gain a measure of revenge against rival UMBC, defeating the Retrievers 15-7 on a hot and steamy afternoon. Mollot then put the Terps ahead for good, making it 6-5 with just 59 seconds left in the first half.

After Chris Malone's first goal of the game, Combs scored back-to-back goals -- including the game-winner -- just 26 seconds apart with 10:21 left in the third quarter to make it 9-5. Malone tallied his second of the run to make it 10-5. Craig Hochstadt and Marcus LaChapelle scored the final two goals of the 9-0 run to make it 12-5 1:46 into the fourth quarter. During the run, Mollot also posted three assists and LaChapelle had two helpers.

"Strive for clarity, but accept and understand ambiguity."

That phrase captures one way in which an educated person approaches the world and its challenges. Students who graduate from the University of Maryland have been exposed to the tools that allow them to put that perspective to work. Imparting such a perspective may be an ambitious project for undergraduate education, but to aim for anything less would be unworthy of a great university's goals for its students. Twelve years ago, Promises to Keep, a plan for undergraduate education at Maryland, articulated those goals so eloquently we repeat them here.

Undergraduate education at Maryland "aims to provide students with a sense of identity and purpose, a concern for others, a sense of responsibility for the quality of life around them, a continuing eagerness for knowledge and understanding, and a foundation for a lifetime of personal enrichment."

As we learn with and from one another, we try to "develop human values," "celebrate tolerance and fairness," "contribute to the social conscience," "monitor and assess private and collective assumptions," and "recognize the glory, tragedy and humor of the human condition." Your years at the University of Maryland can provide you with all the tools you need to accomplish these goals. Students here are "educated to be able to read with perception and pleasure, write and speak with clarity and verve, handle numbers and computation proficiently, reason mathematically, generate clear questions and find probable arguments, reach substantiated conclusions, and accept ambiguity."

And we also hope you enjoy the journey.

University of Maryland

The Campus

The University of Maryland, College Park, is the most comprehensive institution of higher education, research and service in the state. The university offers 100 undergraduate majors, 88 master's programs and 69 doctoral programs in 13 colleges and schools.

The university is one of only 30 public research universities that are members of the prestigious 58-member Association of American Universities. It is classified as a Research-I university by the Carnegie Foundation by virtue of the range of its baccalaureate programs, the amount of federal support received and the number of doctoral degrees awarded each year, sharing that honor with the top research universities in the country.

Among the public universities in the Association of American Universities, Maryland ranks among the top in percentage of African-American undergraduate students. In addition, the university has the largest number of African-Americans and other minority members among its peers.

Flagship Status

In 1988, the University of Maryland, College Park, was designated as the flagship institution for the University System of Maryland. As well as pursuing a serious research mission and continuing its high level of service to the state, the university rededicated itself to providing the highest quality graduate and undergraduate education. Increased undergraduate opportunities for research and individual study; the development of the College Park Scholars Program and the expansion of the University Honors Program; the genesis of Honors Humanities and Gemstone; the creation of CORE, the general education program; and the establishment of the Center for Teaching Excellence all affirmed the legislature's designation of flagship.

Libraries

Seven libraries make up the University of Maryland library system: McKeldin (main) Library, Architecture Library, Art Library, Engineering and Physical Sciences Library, Hornbake Library, Performing Arts Library, White Memorial (Chemistry) Library.

These libraries constitute the largest university research library institution in the Washington metropolitan area, providing vital resources to researchers, visiting scholars, and businesses throughout the region. The libraries' holdings include more than 2.5 million volumes, 24,000 subscriptions to periodicals and nearly 5 million items available in microfilm format.

Research

Opportunities for conducting research abound at the University of Maryland, College Park, and in the surrounding area, both for faculty to advance their own expertise and bring their insights into the classroom, and for students to begin their exploration of their special interests with practical experience. On campus, special facilities and a number of organized research centers, bureaus, and institutes promote the acquisition and analysis of new knowledge in the arts, sciences and applied fields.

The university's enviable location – just nine miles from downtown Washington, D.C., and approximately 30 miles from both Baltimore and Annapolis – enhances the research of its faculty and students by providing access to some of the finest libraries and research centers in the country.

Service

Programs of public service are central to the overall mission of the university. The philosophy is reflected in the wide array of programs and initiatives that benefit the state's business, agriculture and education communities.

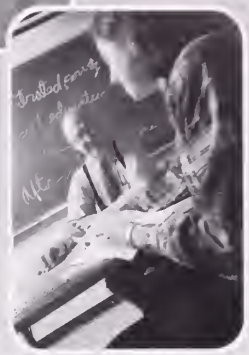
With more than 90 high technology firms in the three-county area of Montgomery, Prince George's and Frederick counties, the university has found abundant opportunity to extend its business and technology outreach programs to the region. Many of these programs are part of the Engineering Research Center, which operates the Technology Advancement Program and the Maryland Industrial Partnerships, programs designed to provide Maryland entrepreneurs and small businesses with research facilities, technical assistance, administrative support, and access to technology that will advance their economic base.

The Institute for Systems Research has formed partnerships with major corporations, including Lockheed Martin, Westinghouse, BF Goodrich, Hughes Aircraft and Dupont to apply advanced systems research to solving industry problems in the fields of communications, manufacturing, controls and robotics.

The University of Maryland features a diversity of cultural and recreational activities. Four art galleries, more than 200 annual musical performances and countless dance and theater productions, expose audiences to the broadest range of programs in the arts. And intercollegiate, club and intramural sports provide students of all levels an opportunity to participate as spectators or athletes.

A Wired World

Students at the University of Maryland are part of an academic community that enjoys free access to networked computer resources and facilities that are among the best in the country. Free computer accounts enable users to store class work on a networked server, download classroom support materials and other electronic information from campus networked resources.



President C.D. Mote, Jr.

C.D. (Dan) Mote Jr. took office as president in September 1998 with a clear vision for taking the University of Maryland down the home stretch to its destiny as one of America's great research universities.

Mote came to Maryland from the University of California at Berkeley, where he had earned all of his degrees, and where he had served in faculty and administration more than 30 years. He had most recently been vice chancellor for university relations.

In Maryland, he found a university already well on its way to achieving the greatness envisioned when the General Assembly declared it the flagship institution of the University System of Maryland. Mote immediately took a leadership role on the Governor's Task Force on Governance, Coordination and Funding of the University System of Maryland to gain greater autonomy and flexibility for the university to pursue its goals. He followed that by working closely with state leaders to boost university funding for new programs, scholarships and faculty, gaining 10 percent appropriations increases in each of his first two years.

Mote spelled out in his inauguration address his vision of Maryland as a great research university, where teaching and research are "inseparable." In this plan, the faculty creates a culture of excellence that permeates the university, student success is the center of all activity, and the extended Maryland family of alumni and friends grows rich in pride and tradition.

High achievement has been Dan Mote's life, from his student days at the University of California through his years as an outstanding teacher and world-renowned researcher and his leadership of a highly successful capital campaign at Berkeley.

By the end of Mote's second year at Maryland, the university's ongoing capital campaign, Bold Vision • Bright Future, had raised nearly $300 million of a $350 million goal, including such landmark donations as Clarice Smith's $15 million for the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center and Comcast Corporation's $25 million for the Comcast Center. But Mote has said repeatedly that development and capital campaigns are not principally about raising money.

"They are about the university building relationships, with its alumni and friends of the university through the quality people and quality programs on campus. If we succeed in building authentic relationships, fund-raising happens as easily as the women's lacrosse team scores a goal."

Mote and his wife Patsy live in the President's Residence on the College Park campus. They have two grown children and four grandchildren.

Maryland TERRAPINS

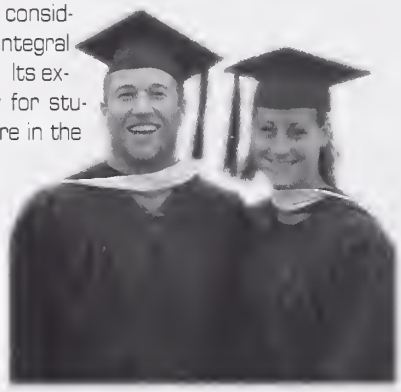
Among The Nation's Best

This is Maryland Athletics

At the University of Maryland, winning is not taken lightly. Like the rich history of all its sports programs, championships are a tradition.

Since the 1950s, Maryland has established itself as one of the most successful athletic programs in the nation. This type of success is no accident; it has been built year-by-year on the achievements of outstanding young men and women who were given the opportunity to excel both on and off the field of play. The victories, the championships and the national acclaim are all ingredients of the Maryland athletic program. Student-athletes who attend Maryland are part of a program and a university which thrives on tradition and excellence.

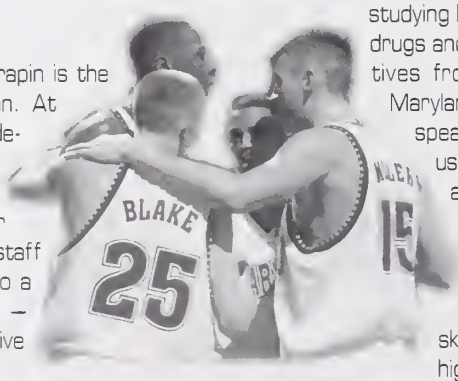
Academic Excellence



The University of Maryland considers intercollegiate athletics an integral part of the collegiate experience. Its existence provides an opportunity for students, faculty and alumni to share in the life of intercollegiate athletics.

The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to achieve the same standards of excellence in its athletic program as exist within the university's teaching, research and public service programs. The department embraces the concept that the student-athlete is first and foremost a student, possessing academic abilities, personal interests and ambitions comparable to those of the other members of the student body. Since 1983, 88 percent of freshmen scholarship athletes who completed their eligibility at the University of Maryland earned their degrees.

Goals



The great thing about being a Terrapin is the commitment to hard work and dedication. At the University of Maryland, the athletic department is dedicated to supporting a well-balanced Division I program. Athletic director Deborah A. Yow and her dedicated coaches, administrators and staff have re-engineered the department into a responsive and financially sound model – with a clear vision and a determined drive toward national prominence.

Athletic Success

National championships, conference championships, national rankings and postseason play are all a part of the University of Maryland experience. The University of Maryland has established itself as one of the nation's elite athletic programs. The Terrapins have won 15 national championships, including a record six consecutive by the women's lacrosse team. The Terrapins had plenty of reason to celebrate when it came to intercollegiate athletics in 1999-2000, with another finish among the top 15 percent of all schools in the Sears Directors' Cup, which measures the overall athletic achievement in men's and women's sports.

Competition

Wearing the Maryland uniform means playing in front of some of the loudest and most supportive fans in the nation. It means playing against the best teams in the country, in the most prestigious conference in the country, the ACC. It means wearing the school colors with pride. It means doing your best in athletics and academics. It is a unique and special feeling being a Terrapin.

Athletes in the Community

From the media spotlight to the community spotlight, Terrapin student-athletes strengthen the ties of the local community by serving as role models. Community service is a key part of the Terrapins' agenda. Student-athletes support many community programs which help to enrich the lives of Maryland youth while teaching the importance of studying hard and saying "no" to drugs and alcohol. Representatives from the University of Maryland athletic department speak to participants and use their image and the appeal of sports to encourage Maryland children to stay in school, improve their reading and writing skills, and to receive their high school diplomas.

Athletic Director Deborah A. Yow

Dr. Deborah A. Yow is in the seventh year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland ... a year in which she also has assumed the presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics, an organization with a membership of more than 6,100 athletic administrators representing 1,600 colleges and universities in North America and Mexico.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony to her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability. Likewise, her election to the presidency of NACDA is an indication of the respect with which Dr. Yow is regarded in intercollegiate athletics and education in the U.S. and Canada.

In October 2000, Yow was named Female Sports Executive of the Year by the editors of Street & Smith's SportsBusiness Journal.

Also as a member of the NCAA Management Council and NCAA Division I Budget Committee, Yow presents a strong voice for excellence and integrity at the highest levels of intercollegiate athletics. In these national roles she has represented the University of Maryland and the Atlantic Coast Conference with a balanced and proactive voice.

Since taking over at Maryland in 1994, she and her staff have:

• Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsive, goal-oriented organization.

• Balanced all six of the nearly $30 million annual budgets (the first balanced budgets for the Terrapins in 10 years prior to her arrival).

• Greatly enhanced the academic support services provided to student-athletes, with an enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate of nearly 90 percent during her tenure.

• Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports ranking in the upper 15 percent of all NCAA Division I institutions.

• Reorganized and upgraded marketing and fundraising efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result, private gifts to athletics have increased 135% and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by 270% during her tenure at Maryland.

• Implemented a strategic management model.

• Paid off approximately $7 million in operating debt accrued before her arrival in 1994.

• Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fundraising applications.

• Significantly improved customer care in every area.

Maryland athletic director Deborah A. Yow took over as president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics in July 2000.

The Maryland Department of Athletics has made remarkable progress under Yow's leadership. Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past six years, Dr. Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied ... our vision is to be one of the top 10 programs in the nation consistently ... we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools ... to work hard and work smart ... to recognize that our only limitations are those that we place upon ourselves." As a manager and leader, she clearly models these principles. In 1999, she was singled out by Street & Smith's SportsBusiness Journal as one of the leading athletic administrators in the U.S.

A former basketball coach, she began her coaching career at the high school level in North Carolina before taking over as head women's coach at the University of Kentucky in 1976. She also achieved an outstanding coaching record as head coach at the University of Florida. She later moved into athletic administration at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina-Greensboro, followed by a highly successful tenure as A.D. at Saint Louis University.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics, management and human behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States.

Summing up the entire Terrapin athletic program, Yow recently observed, "We have the finest student-athletes, coaches, support staff and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work and cooperative spirit that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets and our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, and the Maryland Educational Foundation and M Club members who serve and give liberally. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all of our successes ... and the basis for our bright future."

National Successes

The Terps enjoyed across-the-board success in 1999-2000, with the following varsity programs earning Top 30 rankings at one time or another during their respective seasons of competition, and two teams capturing national championships (field hockey, women's lacrosse).

Basketball (Men's)	Gymnastics
Football	Indoor Track (Women's)
Lacrosse (Men's)	Outdoor Track (Women's)
Lacrosse (Women's)	Soccer (Men's)
Field Hockey	Soccer (Women's)

Athletic Administration

Dave Haglund

Associate Athletic Director/ Media Relations

Dave Haglund joined the University of Maryland athletic staff in January of 1998 following a 16-year career in the sports information office at Fresno State University. At Maryland he serves as the administrative head of the Terrapins' media relations unit, overseeing the development and implementation of initiatives to provide publicity for the university's 25 varsity sports and more than 600 student-athletes.

He was elevated to associate athletic director in February 1999 and assumed responsibilities as sport supervisor for men's and women's lacrosse and men's and women's swimming.

A 1981 graduate of Oregon State University, Haglund began his sports information career as an assistant SID at Fresno State in 1981 and was elevated to sports information director in 1986. During the course of his career at Fresno State, he served as the primary contact person for the Bulldogs' nationally ranked Division I football, basketball, baseball and soccer programs. He also served as information director of the California Bowl (1982-83) for two years.

Haglund and his wife, Cindy, are the parents of two children: Samantha (7) and Matthew (4).

Academic Support and Career Development

The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics is committed to the academic success and career development of student athletes. In support of this commitment the department sponsors the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU).

Mission

The mission of the unit is (1) to provide quality developmental programs and need based services that will enhance the opportunity to earn an undergraduate degree, (2) offer career development opportunities and (3) support the psychosocial growth of student athletes through special initiatives.

Staff

Nine full-time professionals, two graduate assistants, tutorial support staff and student associates comprise the unit's workforce. Assistant Director Don Pearman (left) serves as the ASCDU liasion with the men's lacrosse team.

ASCDU & The University

Primary academic advising is provided by professional advisors assigned to each student athlete by his or her home college, school or department. The ASCDU counselors serve as an important support network that coordinates and implements transitional and developmental programs to address the academic and career development needs of student athletes. In cooperation with the Office of Records and Registration, ASCDU monitors academic progress of student athletes to assure that NCAA, ACC, and University rules and regulations are met.

Location

The primary ASCDU unit is conveniently located on the ground floor of Cole Field House where student athletes have access to various resources and services. Each academic counselor has private office space in order to insure meeting privacy. A study table room is staffed by proctors and arranged to maximize student focus and concentration. The facility also houses a tutorial room devoted to servicing the learning needs of student athletes. The staff maintains two computer resource laboratories with a total of 40 personal computers containing up-to-date software packages. In addition, ASCDU coordinates a laptop computer service that provides each team access to laptop computers while traveling to away competitions.

There is also a satellite computer room in the Gossett Football Team House. Three of the nine ASCDU professionals are currently housed in the building.

The Future

In the summer of 2002, the $124 million Comcast Center will become the new home of the ASCDU unit. A 7,000 square foot wing has been developed to replace the current space in Cole Field House. The new home of ASCDU will be conveniently located on the floor where offices of coaches for 20 sports will also be placed. The close proximity was designed to facilitate communication among ASCDU staff, coaches and student athletes. The satellite computer lab in the Gossett Football Team House will continue to operate. In addition, a building addition of an auditorium which will seat 140 is currently planned for the Gossett Football Team House. That space will be available for use by the entire athletic program, including ASCDU.

Academic courses, programs and services offered by ASCDU include the following:

- Prospective student-athlete orientation
- Academic counseling
- NCAA academic eligibility monitoring
- Academic enrichment and career development presentations and workshops
- Accredited tutorial support
- Mentor program
- EDCP 108-J (Career decision making and planning)
- EDCP 108-K (College learning strategies and skills)
- EDCP 108-O (First-year transitions to the university)

Strength and Conditioning

Collegiate lacrosse has evolved to the point where total physical preparation is necessary to successfully compete on the Division I level. It has become extremely important to strength and conditioning coach Craig Fitzgerald (left) that all of the Terrapin athletes are prepared through training to maximize their athletic development in terms of strength and conditioning. The high level of dedication by the members of the lacrosse team has brought about spectacular achievements in the weight room and in competition.

The objective of the strength and conditioning program for lacrosse is based on the enhancement of performance as well as the prevention of injuries. Fitzgerald makes every attempt to accommodate the different training needs of each individual athlete.

The preparation of a student-athlete to compete in lacrosse goes beyond strength and power training in the weight room. Speed improvement, flexibility, plyometrics, nutrition, agility and conditioning are also important ingredients in the preparation of the softball team here at Maryland. The strength and conditioning staff puts a great emphasis on improving the quickness of the Terps through increased mechanical efficiency and the improvement of acceleration of maximum velocity.
